INTRODUCTION

English courses are designed to develop students' confidence and ability to read and write effectively. The courses introduce students to various aesthetic, cultural, and historical factors, which influence what they read and write. Faculty members present their discipline in a manner consistent with academic freedom and an awareness of students' experiences.

Through a 3-Year BA, 4-Year BA, or Honours BA, students may choose courses covering a variety of texts from several perspectives, including the literature of different periods and genres, and the function and history of language. Some English courses are prescribed or recognized as pre-professional or professional courses, and all courses are useful to professional careers. The study of English also helps students develop competence in using language. Students with English degrees often go into such fields as journalism, business, public service, editing and publishing, law, medicine, and theology, or enter graduate school in literary or related studies to prepare for an academic career in teaching and scholarship.

The Department of English also participates in the Minor in Interdepartmental Comparative Literature. For eligible courses, please see Comparative Literature in this Calendar.

AREAS OF SPECIALIZATION IN THE 4-YEAR BA IN ENGLISH

Students pursuing a four-year degree may choose to take a general English degree (described above) or they may concentrate their studies on one of three specific areas of specialization. 1. Creative Writing, 2. Young People's Texts and Cultures, or 3. Screen and Cultural Studies.

1. Creative Writing: All students are welcome to take courses in this area, whether they choose the specialization or not. Students who complete the following course of study for the 4 -Year BA will have their specialization in Creative Writing noted on their transcript.

Description

The Creative Writing specialization develops skills in reading and analyzing literature, with the goal of creating and producing original works of literary art. While maintaining an interest in literary history, form, genre, and the place of literature among the other arts, Creative Writing introduces students to methods and theories of writing in a variety of genres, including fiction, poetry, and (with courses available from the Theatre and Film department) plays and screenwriting.

Required Courses

Students are required to fulfill all current requirements for a 4-Year BA in English, listed above.
In addition, students pursuing a specialization in Creative Writing must complete the following:
Core Course:
ENGL-3101(6) Creative Writing Comprehensive
Note: the prerequisite for this course is ENGL-2102(3) and the co-requisite is ENGL-2002(3), both listed below
12 credit hours of study in additional Creative Writing courses chosen from the following list, including at least two different genres:
ENGL-2102(3) Introduction to Creative Writing: Developing a Portfolio
ENGL-2002(3) The Creative Process
ENGL-3102(1) Creative Writing Field Research (may be taken up to 3 times, if topic varies)
ENGL-3112(6) Advanced Creative Writing
ENGL-3113(3) Writing Short Fiction
ENGL-3114(3) Writing Poems
ENGL-3115(3) Writing for Children
ENGL-3116(3) Topics in Creative Writing (see English website for current description)
THFM-2610(3) Script and Screen
THFM-2611(3) Introduction to Screenwriting*

THFM-2612(3) Script and the Small Screen
THFM-2701(6) Playwriting I*
THFM-3611(6) Advanced Screenwriting*
THFM-3701(6) Playwriting II: General*
*Note that a maximum of 9 credit hours in Theatre and Film can count toward the minimum 48 credit hours in the Major subject. Also note that Theatre and Film courses have their own prerequisites and regulations.

A minimum of 6 credit hours of study in Canadian and/or Indigenous literatures and cultures. See the English Department website or consult an English department advisor for a list of eligible courses in any given year.

A minimum of 18 additional credit hours of study in English courses other than Creative Writing. To write well, you must be well read.

Students must consult with an English Department advisor for Creative Writing in planning their program of study and completing the required forms at each registration.
2. Young People's Texts and Cultures: All students are welcome to take courses in this area, whether they choose the specialization or not. Students who complete the following course of study for the 4-Year BA will have their specialization in Young People's Texts and Cultures noted on their transcript.

Description

The Young People's Texts and Cultures specialization allows students to focus on texts by, for, and about young people. While maintaining an interest in literary history, form, genre, and the place of literature among the other arts, Young People's Texts and Cultures also introduces students to the study of other texts such as toys, games, picture books, graphic narratives, digital media, films and performances.

Required Courses

Students are required to fulfill all current requirements for a 4-Year BA in English, listed above. In addition, students pursuing a specialization in Young People's Texts and Cultures must complete the following:

Core Course

ENGL-2003(6) The Field of Children's Literature OR ENGL-2004(6) A History of Children's Literature
12 credit hours of study in additional courses in Young People's Texts and Cultures, chosen from the following list:

ENGL-2114(6) Fairy Tales and Culture
ENGL-3115(3) Writing for Children
ENGL-3117(3) Poetry for Young People
ENGL-3118(3) Topics in Fiction for Young People
ENGL-3119(3) Canadian Children's Literature and Culture
ENGL-3160(3) Topics in Young People's Cultural and Literary Texts
ENGL-3169(3) Films for Young People
Capstone course (normally taken in the final year of the program)
ENGL-3120(6) Practicum in Literature, Literacy and Language (related to young people's texts and cultures) OR
ENGL-4160(3/6) Young People's Texts and Cultures
A minimum of 18 additional credit hours of study in English courses other than courses in Young People's Texts and Cultures.
Students must consult with an English Department advisor for Young People's Texts and Cultures in planning their program of study and completing the required forms at each registration.
3. Screen and Cultural Studies: All students are welcome to take courses in this area, whether they choose the specialization or not. Students who complete the following course of study for the $4-Y e a r$ BA will have their specialization in Screen and Cultural Studies noted on their transcript.

Description

The Screen and Cultural Studies specialization focuses not only on literary texts, but also on cinematic, media, and cultural texts. Courses in this area reflect an interest in literary and cultural history; literary and cinematic forms, movements, and genres; cultural and critical theory; audience and reception studies; and the intersections between literature, film and other forms of cultural production.

Required Courses

Students are required to fulfill all current requirements for a 4-Year BA in English, listed above. In addition, students pursuing a specialization in Screen and Cultural Studies must complete the following:

Core Course

ENGL-2146 (6) Screen Studies OR ENGL-2145(6) Field of Cultural Studies

12 credit hours of study in additional courses in Screen and Cultural Studies, chosen from the following list:

ENGL-2145(6) Field of Cultural Studies (if not already counted as the core course)
ENGL-2146(6) Screen Studies (if not already counted as the core course)
ENGL-2180(6) Popular Literature and Film

THFM-2612(3) Script and the Small Screen*
*Note that a maximum of 9 credit hours in Theatre and Film can count toward the minimum 48 credit hours in the Major subject.
Also note that Theatre and Film courses have their own prerequisites and regulations.
Students must consult with an English Department advisor for Screen and Cultural Studies in planning their program of study and completing the required forms at each registration.

REQUIREMENTS FOR AN HONOURS BA IN ENGLISH

Honours courses are designed to allow for more intensive student participation in the study of a wide range of subjects, including critical theory, women's writing, national literatures, historical periods, and individual authors and topics. While students have some flexibility in choosing their paths through the Honours program, the requirements ensure that all students graduate with an overall sense of the field of literary and textual studies. Regular attendance and active participation in seminars are required of all students registered in Honours courses. NOTE: While ENGL-2142(6) Field of Literary and Textual Studies is a required course for students pursuing an Honours BA in English, students may enroll in 4000-level courses if they have completed OR are concurrently registered in any of the following courses: ENGL-2003(6) Field of Children's Literature; ENGL-2142(6) Field of Literary and Textual Studies; ENGL-2145 (6) Field of Cultural Studies; or ENGL-2146 Screen Studies.

Prior to registration on WebAdvisor/Student Planning each Spring, students must meet with an English Department faculty advisor to discuss their program and submit an Honours Declaration form. The advising schedule is posted in the English Department and on the departmental website.

Note: Unless these courses also have an English number, they do not count as part of the minimum 54 credit hours required of Honours students.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Minimum 30 credit hours completed
Entry, continuing and graduation minimum GPA is $3.0(B)$ in Honours Subject courses and $2.5(C+)$ in Non-Honours Subject courses. The minimum 3.0 GPA (B) will be based on all attempts (including course repeats and failures) in Honours Subject courses. The minimum 2.5 GPA (C+) in all Non-Honours Subject courses will be calculated as for the general degree (i.e. Fs are not included, and in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used).
Students must consult with an English Department advisor or the Honours Chair in planning their studies.

COURSE LISTINGS

FIRST-YEAR (1000-LEVEL) COURSES
Only 6 credit hours in First-Year (1000-level) English courses can count towards a Major in English.

In order to offer students an interesting and useful introduction to university-level literary study, all sections of First-Year (1000-level) English follow the general guidelines listed in the course descriptions below. However, each section of these courses works toward these general goals by means of a different focus. Some sections concentrate on specific approaches or theories of literature (such as postcolonial or feminist); some deal with specific genres (such as poetry or short fiction); and some cover specific kinds of literature (such as popular literature or writing by women). Because each individual section of the courses varies in both content and method, students intending to enroll in these courses should consult the English Department website for descriptions of the specific content of each of the sections of the course currently being offered. After reading these descriptions, students should try to select a section with a focus that interests them. For additional information on these sections and how to satisfy the first-year prerequisite, please see "Prerequisites" in the "General Information" section.
